

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVE., OCTOBER 29, 1883.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To Whom Address All Communications

As noting Maysville enterprise,
We have to tell the tale,
That Thomas owns a market house
And Phister, owns a jail.
And not to be outdone by them,
If bargain can be made,
Old Huntington is skinning round
To buy the upper grade.

This latest matter of interest at Aberdeen is the opening of the Baptist Opera House.

It is rumored that Mr. Charles H. White will succeed Messrs. Sulser, Petry & Co., in the cigar manufacturing business.

Don't forget there will be a matinee by Draper's Uncle Tom's Cabin Troupe, at Washington Opera House this afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. DUFEU, an aged lady, fell at the corner of Second and Short streets, on Saturday afternoon, and received a severe cut on the forehead.

REVENUE tax payers are notified that no stamps will be sold at the office in this city from 10 o'clock a. m., October 30th until November 1st.

In the case of Shackleford vs. Finch & Co., in the Circuit Court, the defendants Saturday morning, filed their motion and grounds for a new trial.

MR. FRED OTTO has on exhibition at his saloon, a pheasant that was caught on Front street a day or two ago. It is a fine specimen of this beautiful bird.

On the 26th inst., the Masonic Mutual Benefit Association paid the following death claims: P. B. Vanden, $1,603; Abner C. Hunter, $1,602; W. R. Potts, $1,603.

DRAPER'S Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company will appear at the opera house to-night. Be sure and reserve your seats at Taylor's news depot. The price is fifty cents.

R. W. WELLS & Co., of Helena, recently sold a hoghead of tobacco in the Cincinnati market for $33.50 a hundred pounds. This is the best sale of Mason county tobacco announced this season.

A FRACAS occurred this morning about two o'clock in which George Suns, John Suns and Levi Kain were involved. The latter was cut, but not seriously, it is supposed, by John Suns. All the men were arrested.

We respectfully suggest to the city council that it be submitted to the popular vote whether the name of Second street shall be changed to "Boar's Walk." All citizens who believe in appropriate appellations will vote for the proposition.

Though numerous cases may operate to turn the hair gray, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, but we have yet to hear of its first failure.

In response to an inquiry regarding matches, we have been informed that R. B. Lovel is selling for five cents a box that contains five hundred good matches. This is two and a half times as many as were formerly sold for that price, and one hundred more than were formerly sold for ten cents. This is all the public can expect.

THE "German" Friday night at the Riverside Hotel, was a most charming entertainment, and the young people are to be congratulated on the success of their first meeting. The "German" has never been danced much in Maysville, and the beauty of the dance is all the more appreciated on account of its novelty. Another meeting will be held in a few weeks, of which due notice will be given.

The old reliable steamer W. P. Thompson, will enter the Vanceburg and Cincinnati trade on the 31st inst., and will run on her old time, leaving Cincinnati Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week at 4:30 a. m., and returning leave Vanceburg on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays at noon, except on Sunday, when the time of departure will be 5 p. m. Captain Bruce Redden will be in command, and Mr. Moss Taylor in the office.

The old jail property, which includes the residence, jail building, cells, etc., was offered at public sale on Saturday, and bought by Dr. John P. Phister for $3,010. The Doctor purchased it with the view of offering it to the city to be used as a station house, but if the city does not desire to own it, it will probably be for sale again. The property was bought low, and the buyer has since been offered for it a considerable advance on the price bid.

Political Corruptions.

Ed. Bulletin: With your permission I desire to present a few thoughts on the present condition of politics. Allow me to preface my article by saying that I write, not for the professed politician, but for the professed christian, and to all such let me say that I want to "stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance."

Politics has been defined to be "the science of Government," but such are the corruptions associated with that science to-day that a lexicographer of the present would hardly be warranted in giving the word that definition. He might more appropriately say politics has come to mean "the science destructive of all government." To every man in whose breast there is love of country, of humanity, and of God, or in other words, to every patriot and to every christian, the extent and enormity of political corruptions are truly alarming. Honesty in politics is a principle that has been very largely relegated to the days of the past. As a rule candidates for office are not chosen on account of special fitness morally and intellectually, and because of their sympathy with the highest interests of the people, but because of their party affiliations. The veriest demagogues succeed by satanic machinations in obtaining the nomination of the party and their honorable men are called upon to support them for the reason that they are "our nominees." I disclaim the whole thing. They are not our nominees. They are the nominees of bribery and cliques. They do not represent the honorable men of the party. They are a disgrace to any party, and instead of claiming honors and preferments of the party, they ought to ask the party's forgiveness for the stigma and shame which their lives have cast upon it, and be satisfied simply with the forbearance which the party has exercised towards them in suffering them to remain in its ranks at all.

Political caucuses and conventions are to such a great extent ruled by unprincipled and designing men that an honest man feels that he has been defiled by having been connected with them.

And it is an abiding shame to our people that knave-like demagogues are permitted, in a very large measure, to control our elections. Honorable men will not condescend to the littleness and meannesses which are so common among politicians of the present day. Men are elected to office by fraud. Officers so elected can be bribed by the merest considerations of party or personal interest, or with money, not to enforce the laws. The natural result is, as we might expect, that a large percentage of the laws on our statute books are dead letters, and had as well never have been enacted. Occasionally a voice sounds out clear and strong against the non-enforcement of our laws, and let us hope that this is the premonition of a mighty upheaval of a sound public sentiment that will demand and secure a much-needed reform along this line. Our State and National Legislatures are more or less dens of iniquity. The writer has a painful personal knowledge of the truth of this last statement in reference to his own State. Two or three years since he spent a few days in the State capital, and whilst there was reliably informed that it was a common thing for both houses of the Legislature to give intermissions during their daily sittings for the purpose of giving our representatives an opportunity of being served with wines and liquors. This one fact is sufficient evidence of the corruption of our State politics.

I am no croaking pessimist, who sees only the dark side of things, and who thinks everything is going to ruin, but it is useless to disguise the truth, or turn aside from the facts in the case. These are patent to all, and if we are wise men we will address ourselves to the remedy of the evil. What is that evil? It is for every citizen to conscientiously do his duty. Let every man of honor, and especially every avowed christian, give political tricksters to understand that he can no longer command his vote for unworthy, immoral, and inefficient men.

Let the party leaders be made to understand that they must give us the very best men as candidates for office, or else the nominees will not be supported, regardless of consequences to our party whatever may be its name. Let every man positively refuse to vote for men whose only claim to their support is their unswerving adherence to the party of the past. Let demagogues be taught that the party lash has lost its sting, and that its sharp crack will be no longer heeded by sensible men. Let every officer of the law, who fearlessly does his duty, receive the full sympathy of and support of all law-abiding people. Let all lawlessness be discontinued, and every means used for its suppression. Let our grand jurymen magnify their office by making rigid efforts to apprehend violators of the law, and let the courts see to it that the severest penalties are inflicted upon all such. Let every minister of the gospel denounce these evils and all others which threaten to destroy our national existence and sap the very foundation principles of society, in unmistakable terms.

The pulpit must not give forth an uncertain sound in reference to these things. I conceive that a practical reformation of these evils is only to be secured along the line indicated. Of course in the limits of a news paper article I can only be suggestive and must leave the reader to develop the thoughts for himself. I have written, not in the spirit of controversy or of personal animosity, but from a deep conviction of the heinousness of existing political corruptions, and from a sense of duty. If any one is aroused from his lethargy by the reading of this article and inducted to wage an unceasing warfare against "wickedness in high places," in politics, everywhere, I will be satisfied. Very truly,

F. S. POLLITT.

Maysville, Ky., Oct. 27, 1883.

MR. THOMAS Y. NESBITT has returned from a fishing expedition to Bath county, where he had the good luck to capture the finest salmon that has been taken out of Licking river in a great many years. He has the reputation of being a scientific fisherman and the most successful one in this part of the State. So much for Maysville science and skill.

PERSONALS.

Dr. T. E. Pickett has returned from New York.

Rev. F. J. Crisp and wife, of Carrollton, Ky., are guests of the family of Mr. Geo. W. Sulser.

Miss Lorena Lurley, after a pleasant visit to Cincinnati and Covington, returned home Saturday.

Mr. Ludwell Browning, who has been confined to his room for several days, we are glad to see, is improving.

Miss Edith Oaten, of New Orleans, will arrive to-night to visit her cousins, Miss Tillie and Lizzie Ranson.

Mr. John S. Archdeacon, late of the New Republican, left this morning for Austin, Texas, where he has engaged to take charge of a job-printing office. He is one of the best printers in this city, and is sure to give satisfaction, as Maysville workmen invariably do.

MR. JAMES NICHOLSON, of East Maysville, last night about half-past seven o'clock, was set upon and severely beaten, as he charges, by his son, William Nicholson. The bridge of his nose was broken and he received bruises on other parts of his body. The son was arrested and will have his examining trial to-day, when the cause for the assault will probably be developed.

The possessor of healthy blood has his faculties at command, and enjoys a clear and quick perception, which is impossible when the blood is heavy and sluggish with impurities.
